BIO

Having loved movies and storytelling from a very young age, Cleland spent much of his childhood sneakily watching films hidden behind the couch when he should have been in bed. Years later he decided to follow that passion and enrolled in film school at MAPS, where he was instantly drawn to the craft of editing.

Since graduating in 2005 Cleland has quickly established himself as an emerging talent in the South Australian film industry. After working on a variety of broadcast TV and film projects as assistant editor, including the Australia - China Co-Production feature film "The Dragon Pearl" (Dir: Mario Andreacchio), the SBS TV series "Danger 5" and the ABC TV series "In A League of Their Own" (Dir: Steven McGregor), Cleland made the transition to editor.

After making the transition Cleland won Best Achievement in Editing at the 2011 St Kilda Film Festival for the short "Toot Toot", and Best Editor at 2011 Short Screen Awards for the short "A Moment of Grace". Recently he received his first broadcast credits on the factual series "Race to London" and the animation series "The Adventures of Figaro Pho" for the ABC.

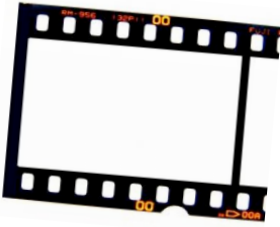

He is currently undertaking editing his first feature film "Inner Demon".
